APR Composites range of products are manufactured utilising recycled and reclaimed materials. They will not rot, rust, splinter or leach chemicals into the environment, therefore providing the perfect long-term, eco-friendly solution for your next project.

No matter what size or design your viewing platform is, APR Composites can custom manufacture all the products you require. Whether it be decking, staircases, ramps, railing, or balustrading, we can help you create a visually appealing and durable space where visitors can pause and take in the view. APR Composites can also custom manufacture and supply all sub-frame posts, joists and bearers to help complete your project if required.

All APR Composites products are custom designed, engineered and manufactured in Australia to your specific needs, which means you get exactly what you need with no waste. They are also easy to install and require very little maintenance, if any at all.
